PRESSURE ON DODD IS DENIED BY KLEIN

Public Relations Man Gives Reply to Senate Testimony

Special to The New York Times BONN, June 23-Julius Klein, the public relations man, denied today that he had pressed Senator Thomas J. Dodd, Democrat of Connecticut, to travel to West Germany on his behalf two years ago.

Mr. Klein said that a statement made yesterday in testimony before the Senate ethics committee by James P. Boyd Jr., Senator Dodd's former administrative assistant, was "not proper."

Mr. Boyd, as the first witness in an investigation of misconduct charges against Senator Dodd, said that the Senator had told him he made the trip to Germany because Mr. Klein "has been pressing me and pressing me."

"Nobody can pressure Sen-ator Dodd, not even a close friend like me," Mr. Klein declared in an interview here der and libel. If the Senate

What did happen, Mr. Klein said, is that he "asked" Senators I will tell ator Dodd if, when he went to Germany, he would explain to tors themselves." West German officials the difference between a Senate hearing and a criminal trial.

Appeared Before Committee

what being a witness at a Sen-ate hearing really means, Mr. Klein said.

Mr. Klein said that other Senators had, in fact, acceded to his request to explain his role in the Senate hearings to contacts in Germany. He de-clined, however, to reveal the names of such Scnators.

"I am not going to drag any more names into this," he said. "I think it would be unfair. It would only expose them to slanethics committee asks me to

United Press International IN CONTROVERSY: Julius Klein, Chicago public relations executive. Senator Thomas J. Dodd is charged by two Washington columnists with having aided his professional interests.

Mr. Klein is in Germany to see industrial clients of his Chicago public relations con-

Appeared Before Committee
In 1963 Mr. Klein had been a witness before Senator J. W.
Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee regarding his activities as a registered agent of a foreign power.
"It is no secret that Fulbright docsn't like me," Mr.
Klein continued. "I was treated as if I were on trial. This was

"It is no recert that Fulbright docsn't like me," Mr.
Klein asserted that he had never asked Dr. Adenauer or damaging my reputation in mever asked Dr. Adenauer or Germany where they thought that a foreign agent was some kind of spy and that I was being invesigated by the C. F. A."

"I therefore asked Senators who professional help and that they had never given him any. He ing investigated by the C. F. A."

"I therefore asked Senators who present Administration in Bonn. what help a witness of the present Administration in Bonn.

STATINTL